Hello Millbrook Families,

I hope this email finds you happy and healthy.

The 2020-2021 school year has officially started! Today, students reported to school both remotely and in-person. All were welcomed back with virtual open arms by our teachers and staff who have missed your children dearly. Our first days of school will focus on helping students get to know each other, building community, creating class norms, and learning to use our technology tools, such as Google Hangout and Seesaw.

While we understand that remote/hybrid learning will never replicate all the experiences of in-person instruction, we still approach this school year with optimism, enthusiasm and as an opportunity to explore new possibilities in the world of education.

More than ever, we will need to remember that we are stronger together. Kindness, empathy, adaptability, and patience will help us through difficult times and lead us to solutions that are good for children.

I look forward to a positive and productive school year - TOGETHER!!
